Taking part in the exchange as part of the Endocrinology Department was a surreal experience. It was a huge learning opportunity which was only made possible by the amazing friendly staff of doctors including professors, residents and even interns. During this experience, I've come across many patients of Endocrinology and got to know more about the department and how they approach different diseases and even try to prevent it. I've also acquired many skills from this experience due to the very skillful doctors in the department who always encouraged me to take part in the patient healthcare even when I was hesitant or unsure.
